It has just been announced that Rudy Giuliani top runner for the Presidency will be making a stop in Dallas to meet with some of his supporters.

Jay Lombardo of Lombardo Custom Apparel is a big supporter of Giuliani, and will host a private party in his honor on September 8th.

“Dear Paul, What a wonderful evening! I’ll never forget when over 500 over our well dressed clients erupted with applause when you delivered “New York, New York” as United States Presidential Candidate Rudy Giuliani stepped up to the stage.

Please know how much I appreciate the way you always go above and beyond to make our special events at Lombardo’s Custom Apparel so unforgettable. From the set up to the song selection, to the way you work the crowd, I can’t thank you enough. I know you will be busy traveling across the Country and throughout the World, but please know that you have a home with good friends in Dallas at Lombardo’s Custom Apparel.”

Always your fan,
